CASTLE WINS IN WALL FINAL

Al. Castle had all the better of the final match in the Wall Cup final tennis tournament, in which he met R. A. Cooke yesterday afternoon. Cooke seemed to be right off his game, except for occasional burst of brilliancy, when he chopped volleys ad placed like the Dick Cooke of last year.

Castle was in deadly form, his work in the first set being of very high standard. It was in this act that Cooke was seen at his very worst. He misjudged the backline incessantly, and found the net times out of number, while Castle placed with exactitude.

Though Cooke was beaten with ease, there were any number of excellent strokes played by both men, but Cooke was just that much off his game as to lose by the barest margin, while Castle kept the ball inside the court, and sidestepped the net safely with his drives.

Today's match between Al. Castle and Atherton Richards, the holder of the cup, ought to be a corker, but as both players are on the same mark it looks like a foregone conclusion that Castle will win.

Among the passengers arriving on the Wilhelmina was Mrs. Metta S. Mack, superintendent of the Susanna Wesley Home. After an absence of seven months, most of which time she was confined in a hospital at Cleveland, Ohio, her many friends in the city gladly welcome her back, while her family of oriental orphan children in the Home feel that their "little Mother" is once again at the head, although Mrs. Snedeker has very ably filled her daughter's position during her enforced absence. Seven Japanese were surprised by the police at the corner of Sheridan and King streets at ten minutes past eleven last night. They were playing craps and the police seized $12 in coin as evidence. All were liberated on $10 bail and as they did not appear this morning, bail was forfeited. Judge Lymer was inclined to issue bench warrants for their arrest but on the intimation of the prosecution that they were first offenders, excepting one who was charged about two years ago, he refrained from so doing.

JAIL IS HIS ONLY HOME

John Briton, a young incorrigible, claiming to be sixteen years old, was sent to jail for one year by Judge Lymer this morning for the theft of a watch. Deputy City and County Attorney Brown gave the lad a very bad character. He declared that Briton, who arrived here on the German ship Gustav and ran away from her, had been befriended many people and had victimized them afterwards. The clothes he was wearing were given him by Paddy Ryan and he had then broken into Paddy Ryan's house and stolen some money. Briton was charged with the theft of two watches and a third charge was pending against him. He seemed to have a mania for stealing watches, said Brown, as he asked for the maximum penalty, adding the defendant did not deserve a bit of sympathy. On one charge the sentence already mentioned was imposed, on the second, sentence was suspended and the third charge was dropped. Briton silently wept as Brown dictated his record. He admitted having been in a police court in England because he had no home.

AUTO ON STAGE AT THE BIJOU

On Monday night the Overland automobile to be awarded the winner of the contest conducted by the Honolulu Amusement Company, will be used in a clever manner by one of the new teams arriving on the Wilhelmina. The management is not yet prepared to announce the nature of the second prize, but state that it is second in value only to the automobile, and to some might be considered more desirable. Energy and popularity will win.
